LEAGUE OF NATIONS AS A POLITICAL ISSUE

AMERICAN ENTRY INTO EUROPEAN AFFAIRS SOUGHT

GROUP OF DEMOCRATS MAY ASK
WILSON TO LEAD A NEW FIGHT FOR LEAGUE

LETTER WRITTEN BY WOODROW
WILSON TO REPRESENTATIVE
HOUSE PUBLISHED

(By United Press)
Washington, April 14.—With republican leaders split into five groups on the issue of America's participation in European affairs, a number of leading democrats are considering making a request to former President Wilson to assume leadership of a new League of Nations fight.

He would not be expected to deliver speeches, but simply to write letters and statements and to let it be known that he was rallying all the friends of the league.

The movement has received impetus through the making public of a letter written a few days ago by Mr. Wilson to Representative Rouse, of Kentucky, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee. In that letter Mr. Wilson showed himself as firmly opposed as ever to a piece meal or conditional entrance by the United States into the league.

The letter follows:
"My dear Mr. Rouse:
"In reply to your letter of March 29th let me say that I approve not of the conditional but of the unconditional admission of the United States to the world court set up under the auspices of the League of Nations although I think it would be more consistent with the name of the United States for candor and courage to become a member of the League of Nations and share with the other members its full responsibility which its covenants involve. Respectfully yours, Woodrow Wilson."

JAMES M. COX IN
ADDRESS FAVORS LEAGUE

St. Paul, April 14.—The League of Nations will be one of the important issues of the presidential campaign of 1924, James M. Cox, of Ohio, said today.

He was to address the legislature at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and will be the chief speaker at the annual Jefferson day banquet of Minnesota democrats tonight.

"The sins of commission and omission of the republicans will be the chief issue of the campaign," said the former Ohio governor.

"They made a distinct promise both through their candidates and the committee of 31 that if elected they would go into the League of Nations."

"They are now beginning to feel the reaction from their policies. The people are becoming conscious that the United States are a part of the world and that the republicans or no one else can separate us. We are feeling the consequences of our economic detachment. It has fallen on the northwest as well as other parts of the country. The agricultural interests feel it particularly. The result is a very considerable movement toward international participation."

The republicans will be forced to nominate President Harding for reelection, he declared, commenting on the announcement by Attorney General Daugherty that the president will be a candidate.

"If they did not name Mr. Harding, it would be an implied admission of absolute failure," he declared.

Mr. Cox refused to make any statement as to his possible candidacy or who may be the presidential nominee of the democrats.

WOMEN VOTERS WREST

Des Moines, April 14.—After many attempts at amendments and substitutions had been made, the resolution endorsing America's entrance into a world court was first voted down and then reconsidered and passed by the National League of Women Voters in convention here today.

SPELLING BEE AT SCHOOL TEACHERS' MEETING
BRINGS CONTESTANTS FROM 20 DISTRICTS;
TRY OUT THE LIST, HOW MANY CAN YOU SPELL?

Some forty grade pupils took part in the spelling contest held in conjunction with the Rural Teachers association spring meeting.

The contest was held in the assembly room at the high school, on Saturday morning, under the direction of Superintendent W. C. Cobb of the city schools and Irma C. Hartley, county superintendent.

The instructor in English at the high school, assisted by the principal, chose the words, which were sealed in envelopes and were not opened until the contest began.

On account of the inclement weather only 20 children from the rural schools were able to attend, and a like number were chosen from the local city schools to compete against them.

Two contests were held, one written, the other oral. Fifty words were pronounced by Miss Vera Waterman, supervisor of the normal training class of the high school, in the written examination.

These words, while not the most difficult, were chosen because they are often misspelled and because of the "tricky" combination of letters in the makeup of some of them. The words follow:

Headache, fourteen, directory, Wednesday, reduction, reform, requesting, throughout, addresses, friendship, except, fabric, insect, burden, issue, presume, increase, inspector, connection, particular, believed, therefore, towel, furnace, entitled, agreeable, thirteen, repetition, hymn, remit, excess, earnest, prevail, maintain, carriage, catarrh, pamphlet, persuade, quotation, effective, adjustment, considerable, whether, anxious, occur, bicycle, received, perceive, separate, and judgment.

Prizes aggregating $20 were distributed to the winners. Ten dollars of this amount was given by the Brainerd Elks lodge, and $10 by Leon Lum, who has been donating this amount each year for a number of years.

Honolulu, April 14.—Reports from the various islands of the Hawaiian group today showed practically no damage sustained by the tidal wave which was general throughout the islands yesterday afternoon.

The wave reached a height of four feet at Kapuli, two feet at Hilo and eight inches at Honolulu.

Victoria, B. C., April 14.—An earthquake shock was recorded on the seismograph at Gonzales observatory here yesterday. It was estimated at being 3,000 miles distant.

It was believed that this quake may have been in the Pacific and to have caused the tidal wave reported from Honolulu.

FRANCE, BELGIUM TO APPLY THE SCREWS
ON THE RUHR AREA

(By United Press)
Paris, April 14.—Great Britain with its objections to the Ruhr occupation is to be left outside the entente a little while longer, while France and Belgium apply the screws and bring the venture to a successful and profitable conclusion.

This, according to reports in well informed circles, is the decision reached by Premiers Theunis and Poincare.

The Franco-Belgian conference terminated shortly after noon today. France and Belgium officially re-affirmed they will not evacuate the Ruhr except in such ratio as Germany fulfills the obligations of the Versailles treaty.

The prime ministers of France and Belgium have agreed the time is not ripe for healing the rupture in the entente.

Owing to the English attitude, the Ruhr venture must be made productive. The population of the newly occupied district will feel the allied hand more heavily upon it than now, it has been officially announced.

GOOD ROADS BOND ISSUE BILL WERE STRONGER IN THE LEGISLATURE TODAY

(By United Press)
St. Paul April 14.—Hopes for the success of the $20,000,000 good roads bond issue bill were stronger in the legislature today.

The house accepted the senate bill passed by the upper body for consideration in place of the house bill. Another effort to get a special order vote is expected this time on the senate bill.

The bills are identical and switching them meant virtually nothing except another chance to vote on special order.

This was interpreted as meaning that house members who were opposed to the measure have eased up a bit.

The senate bill takes the places of the house bill in the rules committee which has been in executive session trying to find a way to get it on special order without the necessary two-thirds votes which could not be obtained in a previous attempt.

KU KLUX KLAN PAPER PROBE IN THE MILL CITY

MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE LINKS
NAME OF GEORGE J. SILK IN INVESTIGATION

FORMER PINE RIVER EDITOR DENIES
PRINTING PAPER IN
PHONE CONVERSATION

Minneapolis is stirred up over the circulation of an alleged Ku Klux Klan paper and is endeavoring to find who printed the literature. In its morning issue of Friday, April 13, the Minneapolis Tribune stated:

George J. Silk, publisher of the Hennepin County Enterprise, Hopkins, is the man who printed the newspaper purporting to be the organ of the Ku Klux Klan, circulated in Minneapolis Tuesday night, city detectives who visited Mr. Silk's shop Wednesday reported to headquarters. Mr. Silk, according to them, admitted that he had printed the Klan paper but was unable to tell who contracted for the work or brought in the copy.

Admits Work, Officers Say
"Mr. Silk admitted that he printed the Klan paper," declared Joseph Lehmeyer, city detective, Thursday. "He made this admission in the presence of H. A. Paragade, Thomas P. Gleason, Michael Neary, D. W. Perry and myself. We visited the shop with instructions to talk to Mr. Silk and to look about the shop. No copies of the paper nor type used in printing it could be seen.

"Looked Like Good Job"
"Mr. Silk said it looked like a good job and that he saw no reason why he should not accept it. He could not say who came in with the copy."

Mr. Silk denied printing the paper in a telephone conversation Thursday morning. "I know nothing whatsoever about it," he declared. "I made no admission of printing it to detectives. You must have the wrong shop."

Asked if there were another printing plant in Hopkins, Mr. Silk replied that "there is no other shop here now."

Olson to Ask Indictments
Floyd B. Olson, county attorney, is collecting evidence for presentation to the grand jury which meets Tuesday. He will ask for indictments charging criminal libel, he said. Part of this evidence will consist of the affidavits of police officers who visited Mr. Silk's plant, it was intimated.

The house today refused to concur in a senate amendment to the highway tax bill.

A conference committee composed of Representatives Green, Darby and Emerson were appointed by Speaker W. I. Nolan for a conference with the senate sub-committee men to iron out the differences.

The amendment would change rates for both passenger autos and trucks. Two more labor bills were passed by the house today. One requires adequate lighting for all employees and the other requires that railroads provide lamps on the back of all locomotives as a protection to drivers of other vehicles.

The house accepted the senate's amendment to the Spooner prison bill which extends the lines of farm machinery which can be made in the prison. The bill also creates a sales agency.

were distributed in Minneapolis. He said that the identity of those who prepared the copy is known.

Members Disown Paper
Various city officials have received lists of alleged members of the various Klan organizations in Minneapolis and suburbs. A number of persons named in these lists, while not denying membership in the Klan, declared that they had no prior knowledge of the attack on city officials and disclaimed any responsibility for the charges.

It was pointed out that the city attorney could issue a complaint without submitting the matter to the grand jury. Mr. Olson also said the individual suits for criminal libel could be filed irrespective of the action of the grand jury.

Several men suspected of distributing the paper were released by the police after being questioned.

'PREFER DEATH TO BEING SLAVES'

APPEARS TO BE SLOGAN OF GERMAN PEOPLE IN RUHR VALLEY TROUBLE

Editors, April 14.—"We would rather be dead than live as slaves" is becoming more and more the slogan of the German people in their battle of passive resistance against French invasion of the Ruhr, President Ebert declares in the second installment of his exclusive interview with the United Press.

This passive policy will harden like good steel in the flame the leader of new Germany states.

Berlin, April 14.—"The German worker rejects as unworthy of a free and active citizen of liberty in the state and community the insulting supposition that he allows himself to be led by any other authority than his own conscience in his political and economic deeds" President Ebert said.

"Is there any crazier example of the worth-destroying nonsense of French and Belgian force methods in the Ruhr than this bloody Easter Saturday at Essen? (The president here refers to the killing of fourteen workers in the Krupp factories).

"One asserts, one wishes, German reparations and deliveries—and shoots German workers who bear every fulfillment of production toward reconstruction.

"One destroys the body life of German work with murder weapons, makes lame production and destroys natural resources of the most productive and most willing to produce German economic territory."

And President Ebert then repeated that all these things occurred "in a peaceful economic mission that had for its purpose the speeding of German's reparations deliveries."

Chicago, April 14.—Improved business conditions in the packing industry was given today as the reason for the 11 per cent increase in wages of 200,000 workers to go into effect Monday.

Unlike advances during the war time peak, the wage increase agreed upon by the management and representatives of company unions here, was not based on higher living costs, but on the proposition that the industry could better sustain the larger pay envelope.

The advance agreed upon by the "Big Four" packing companies will affect 81,500 employees in Chicago. The total yearly advance for workers in this city is $6,750,000.

Arrangements will be made immediately to extend the new scale to packing house branches throughout the country. Increases included five cents an hour for common labor; four cents an hour for semi-skilled labor; three cents an hour for skilled workers; five cents an hour for girls, and not more than ten per cent for piece workers, the exact amount to be determined later.

Tightness of the labor market caused boosts in practically all lines of industry here. 12,000 building trades workers were given an advance of approximately 12c an hour.

"And it has been Ruhr labor which stood first in line with the heavy fulfillment of labor in recent years. Every fibre has been strained here to meet faithfully the almost superhuman obligations of the peace treaty.

"The Ruhr men above and below the earth in shops and factories have given their best. And it is these people whom the master's whips touches. Is justice and economic sense at work there?"

"You as a trained observer of public opinion of our country can have no other impression of the attitude of our whole people than that this latest terrible act of force has strengthened their tough defense will and did not break it."

Ebert then turning almost poetic continued:

"In the fire of suffering, the weapon of passive resistance—the sole weapon remaining to a disarmed Germany—will harden more and more like good steel in the flame.

"We would rather be dead than live as slaves—this manly word spoken recently by one of the Ruhr leaders, is becoming daily more and more the slogan of the whole German nation.

"We do not desire to be slaves doing work under the bloody whips of the oppressors through generations, a vassal's work and sacrificing the future of our children and their children's children to the moloch of imperialistic lusts for power of the foreign conqueror."

FARM LABOR SHORT, OTHER INDUSTRIES ABSORBING SAME

WAGES OF $40 AND $60 MONTH
WITH BOARD DO NOT TEMPT
FARM LABOR

UNLESS LABORING MEN HELP
THE FARMERS, THERE WILL BE FOOD SHORTAGE

(By United Press)
Chicago, April 14.—A farm labor shortage of more than fifty per cent throughout the western states is noticeable, employment experts in Chicago, the country's agricultural capital declared today.

The shortage will grow if present conditions do not improve as spring planting begins, and farmers in some sections will be unable to put in normal crops, Charles J. Boyd, general superintendent of the Illinois Free employment service said.

Wages of $40 to $60 a month with board and room thrown in fails to secure more than half the men needed to refill the nation's bread basket, he asserted.

Packers and building wages of $5 to $6 a day and laborers in factories and light industries is causing the shortage.

Recent wage increases and proposed advances in the steel, packing and construction trade for untrained help are sending the few idle men to those industries. Unless the laboring men go to the farm and help to reduce the shortage, there will be a food shortage, Boyd warned. He also predicted an "agricultural revolt" against immigration restrictions if farmers are unable to plant their crops.

"If the men in this country do not do the work, the agricultural interests through powerful congressional bloc will let down the bars and admit workers to the country who will help in food production," he declared.

Boyd declared with the planting season delayed by unfavorable weather just starting, his office has more than 100 unfilled requests for large supplies of farm help on hand. "There will be a far greater demand later on as farm work progresses, naturally," he continued.

Summer and harvest wages on American farms will be much higher this year than last, Boyd predicted, recalling that during the recent "war peak" the pay of farm laborers reached $6.00 to $10.00 a day.

KU KLUX KLAN PAPER PROBE IN THE MILL CITY

FORMER PINE RIVER EDITOR DENIES
PRINTING PAPER IN
PHONE CONVERSATION

Minneapolis is stirred up over the circulation of an alleged Ku Klux Klan paper and is endeavoring to find who printed the literature. In its morning issue of Friday, April 13, the Minneapolis Tribune stated:

George J. Silk, publisher of the Hennepin County Enterprise, Hopkins, is the man who printed the newspaper purporting to be the organ of the Ku Klux Klan, circulated in Minneapolis Tuesday night, city detectives who visited Mr. Silk's shop Wednesday reported to headquarters. Mr. Silk, according to them, admitted that he had printed the Klan paper but was unable to tell who contracted for the work or brought in the copy.

Admits Work, Officers Say
"Mr. Silk admitted that he printed the Klan paper," declared Joseph Lehmeyer, city detective, Thursday. "He made this admission in the presence of H. A. Paradeau, Thomas P. Gleason, Michael Neary, D. W. Perry and myself. We visited the shop with instructions to talk to Mr. Silk and to look about the shop. No copies of the paper nor type used in printing it could be seen."

"Looked Like Good Job"
"Mr. Silk said it looked like a good job and that he saw no reason why he should not accept it. He could not say who came in with the copy."

Mr. Silk denied printing the paper in a telephone conversation Thursday morning.

"I know nothing whatsoever about it," he declared. "I made no admission of printing it to detectives. You must have the wrong shop."

Asked if there were another printing plant in Hopkins, Mr. Silk replied that "there is no other shop here now."

Floyd B. Olson, county attorney, is collecting evidence for presentation to the grand jury which meets Tuesday. He will ask for indictments charging criminal libel, he said. Part of this evidence will consist of the affidavits of police officers who visited Mr. Silk's plant, it was intimated.

Mayor Leach declined to comment on the investigation other than to say that his own investigation will be continued. The mayor asserted that 25,000 copies of "The Voice of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan"

PORTLAND'S TOURIST CAMP EXPERIENCE

American City Magazine Carries Article by Commissioner S. C. Pier

CONVENIENCES ARE LISTED

Camp Last Season Entertained 11,260 Cars Containing 38,376 People

With the tourist camp proposition holding the center of the stage in Brainerd at this time, it is interesting to note the experiences of other cities which are maintaining camp sites for their summer visitors.

Under the heading "The Tourist Camp: Asset or Liability?" the American City Magazine in its April issue, carries an article written by Commissioner S. C. Pier, of Portland, Oregon, which is as follows:

"It is my experience that an auto camp cannot be entered into in a half-hearted or small way, but that in order to attract a desirable class of tourists, it must be quite up to date for the care and entertainment of guests. As commissioner of Finance and Parks and Playgrounds of the city of Portland, the supervision of the auto camp naturally comes under me, and I am pleased to relate that after our second year's experience in 1922 we are very enthusiastic over this means of entertaining guests and giving them a happy and profitable impression of our city.

"At our municipal auto camp last season, beginning May 1st and ending December 1st, we had 11,260 cars, containing 38,376 people. Every state in the Union, and many foreign countries were represented by one or more cars."

"For example, there were 92 cars

When oil was discovered in Pennsylvania about sixty years ago, a young man named Rockefeller, who had been working for a small salary, invested $700—his entire savings. The remainder of his career is more or less familiar to all.

We are not recommending an investment in "oil," but we want you to note particularly that Rockefeller was ready when his big chance came. Are you saving and getting ready for your opportunity?

THE AVERAGE FIGURE —IS IT YOURS?

By JANE HILL

Those of us who have average figures are truly blessed, for our problem is much less complicated. But don't let's consider the class dismissed.

What are we doing with those figures? Do we always stand just as correctly as we did just now when we were being measured? Or do we betray our tailor by having him fit an upright-downright customer who promptly slouches just as soon as she gets home, and breaks the beautiful line of her suit over the bust, and makes her collar stick out in the back?

Do we stand with one hip up and one hip down, like a weary dray horse? Even Helen of Troy couldn't look lovely in that position—or the equally bad one we assume when we poke our necks out like so many humpbacked turtles. We all know how to stand. But—do we do it?
Let's practice for even a single week and see the difference it makes.

But first, let's be sure our fall from grace hasn't been due to the wrong corset. For slouching often comes from sheer weariness, and oh, what weariness creeps into our very bones under the maddening pressure of a corset that chooses our favorite nerve on which to fit too soon! Did we get the correct size in the first place. The comfortable length? The right weight? Did we have the corset laced correctly? Are the garters adjusted as they should be?

Very few of us are ideal average.
There is always a bit of coaxing to be done—a little erasing, a subtly straightened line, a comfortable support. With remarkably few bones and no undue constraint, the proper corset designed for the average figure brings it gently but surely to its ideal perfection and eternally guards you from the injustice of looking older than you are.

Madam, How Do You Move?
Litheness and grace of movement are intimately tied up with this matter of standing correctly and wearing the right corset. No woman can be truly beautiful or even charming unless she's lovely when she walks, when she bends her head and listens to you, when she plays the piano, when she dances, or sits on the floor with her kiddies, or sews a seam. Nerve tension expresses itself in jerks. And, just here, let us say that irritability prevents many an otherwise goodlooking woman from ever being classed as such.

And the wrong corset may have almost as much to do with irritability as the wrong creed!

Stand correctly. Move rhythm-applies to the whole group, and to all the groups, too. But what shall we wear when we do it?

A CITIZEN WHO SERVES BRAINERD WELL

A NEWSPAPER, by the nature of its work, has the opportunity and the duty of securing information relative to the many interests of the city which it serves. In accepting this opportunity and attending to this duty, the newspaper is made acquainted with all of those movements that are initiated for the good of the city, whether they are pursued wholly within the city or call for activities outside of the city.

In attending to its functions of gathering the news of Brainerd's movements THE DISPATCH has been impressed by the splendid service rendered the city of Brainerd by George D. LaBar. This service has not been restricted to any one matter of interest to Brainerd but has been spread over a large number of affairs that had the welfare of the city as their basis.

The news items have carried the story of the accomplishments made possible through the careful thought, able planning and hard work of Mr. LaBar. These items, however, have not carried the name of the man who was largely responsible for the achievements recounted. This man who serves Brainerd faithfully does not care to have what he does paraded before the people of this city.

Despite this dislike for publicity, THE DISPATCH is impressed by the service rendered and feels prompted to express appreciation of this service and, in this expression, it is voicing the sentiment of those who know of the tireless and persistent effort of this citizen of Brainerd who serves the city so well.

There was a day when it seemed that the paving program outlined by the city council could not be carried out, and when it looked as though the city must give up hope of paving its main streets Mr. LaBar took up the matter and it was put across. The newspapers have told of the considerable amount that was paid this year by the state of Minnesota to Brainerd to be devoted to educational purposes. This money was refunded very largely because of the indefatigable efforts of this valuable citizen. It is now announced that Brainerd is to receive $10,000 of the gross earnings tax, which will be paid by the state of Minnesota to this city under the provisions of a bill recently passed by the legislature. Brainerd is included with other towns, that receive benefit from this measure, because of the strenuous efforts of a number of Brainerd's citizens who will concede that much of the credit must go to Mr. LaBar.

These are but three of the very many benefits that this citizen has brought to Brainerd, and despite the fact that his interests as president of the First National Bank are numerous, he finds many hours to give to the consideration of Brainerd's problems and to these problems he brings the training and business ability of a man who has made a real success of his own affairs. Mr. LaBar does not jump at conclusions; his training in the banking business has developed a cautious disposition, but the conclusions arrived at are likely to be right in most cases. When a more optimistic citizen presents a proposal, if it is seen to be feasible, this man who moves cautiously is ready to come along and give his practical help to bringing the thing proposed into being. He doesn't start things and drop them; he may hesitate before starting, but what he starts he sees through. Mr. LaBar has served Brainerd well and his services in the future will make for a "bigger and better Brainerd."

COMEDY, COINCIDENCE AND CONVICTION

THREE attitudes are assumed by different types of people as they read of the illness of Howard Carter, co-discoverer with the Earl of Carnarvon of the tomb of Tutankhamen. Materialists and rationalists find in the suggestion, that Mr. Carter's illness is the result of occult powers, cause for amusement. These refuse to concede that any other-worldly powers were at work upon the adventurous Egyptologists. They dismiss as comedy, any talk of spirits visiting, upon those who entered the tomb, a penalty imposed upon desecrators of the tombs of the dead. By these the death of the Earl of Carnarvon, followed closely by the illness of Mr. Carter, is nothing more than a coincidence. Natural causes are responsible for both, in the opinion of these. Some, however, might concede that the ancient Egyptians, by some method known at that time, placed poisonous elements in the vicinity of their dead.

On the other hand there are those who are fully convinced that occult powers have been at work, that spirits guard the bodies of these dead kings, and that these expressed their resentment, when the tomb was disturbed, by smiting those who dared to disturb it.

There are a number of thoughts that suggest themselves to those who attempt to view the whole matter in an impartial manner, reserving their decisions until the evidence is in. Until it is seen that the natives, who took part in the removal of the valuables taken from the tomb, also are smitten, those who wish to be consistent will wonder why the natives are immune from the attacks of the spirits or the poisons. If spirits were at work they could single out their victims, but poisons would not be able to choose who should or should not be smitten. But perhaps the poisons might be of a character to destroy the white man while harmless when in contact with natives.

There is yet one more thought suggested by this coincidence. In the ages of long ago people held kings in awe and offered them a place that is no longer granted. Divine right was accepted and kings were kings by the decree of the gods. Such views are no longer acceptable to modern men, who are not quite sure that spirits would be any more wishful of defending the body of a king, of questionable standards, than they would the body of any man. The better the man the more likely is spirit protection, is the idea of some, who believe that in the world of spirits, a man is measured by character and not by pomp and pride.

But, when the last word has been said on this subject, there will be those who see in the superstitions of the natives a matter for comedy, while others will see in the death of the Earl and the illness of his associate a coincidence, and yet others will be convinced that the tomb is guarded by spirits who have stricken the leaders in the work of excavation.

"The equipment of our camp includes a community house with a large stone fireplace in the reception room, comfortable furniture, most of the desirable periodicals and a large writing desk, with pen, paper and ink. An information clerk is on duty here. In this building are two toilets, one each for men and women. The camp covers 24 acres, beautifully wooded, with avenues and camping places, making the entire tract available.

"It is equipped with four batteries of 10 gas stoves each, and a laundry with up-to-date tubs, hot and cold water. The up-to-date toilets are located at convenient places throughout the camp, as the grounds are completely sewered. Electric lights are to be found in the streets, in the building and over the cooking apparatus."

There are two large outdoor brick and steel-covered cooking furnaces for those who prefer them instead of the gas. A double washing rack for cars has been provided. Located just at the edge of the camp is a store concession carrying a complete line of groceries and vegetables, and serving light lunches, soft drinks, ice cream, etc. Gasoline and oil are furnished at regular down town rates to those who desire this service.

"When a car drives into the camp it is registered as follows: Name of owner or chauffeur, number of passengers, residence, (city and state) and number of car. Visitors are met at the gate by a keeper with a smile. They are assisted to a location by a helper, who has been given lessons in courtesy and whose business it is to see that the tourist is located in a satisfactory way.

"Our fees are 50 cents per day for 4 days. If the guests desire to remain longer, they are given the privilege of 6 more days without pay, allowing each tourist to stay 10 days if he desires to do so. No car is allowed to return to the camp until the expiration of 30 days unless the tourist gives notice when he leaves that he desires to return before that length of time.

"By city ordinance, the camp must be self-sustaining. Last year our total receipts were about $12,000. This revenue, the payment of which is perfectly satisfactory to the tourist, is sufficient for us to maintain the camp and add a few improvements each year. I have found that tourists who have complained of this modest charge are invariably a class of people that we do not care to entertain."

"There is a great deal of satisfaction to our city government in bringing happiness to such a large number of people, but aside from that, returns come to the city by encouraging people to come here to locate, and by their spending during their visit for groceries and material for consumption as well as for gifts for those at home.

"I have a record of 17 purchases of real estate in the city of Portland by tourists and of 7 other visitors who are now located here and are doing a profitable mercantile business in different lines. No doubt, there are many more of whom we have no record."

"I am sure that the reports that these tourists have been able to take back to their homes of what this country has to offer in lands, scenery,

A CITIZEN WHO SERVES BRAINERD WELL

A NEWSPAPER, by the nature of its work, has the opportunity and the duty of securing information relative to the many interests of the city which it serves. In accepting this opportunity and attending to this duty, the newspaper is made acquainted with all of those movements that are initiated for the good of the city, whether they are pursued wholly within the city or call for activities outside of the city.

In attending to its functions of gathering the news of Brainerd's movements THE DISPATCH has been impressed by the splendid service rendered the city of Brainerd by George D. LaBar. This service has not been restricted to any one matter of interest to Brainerd but has been spread over a large number of affairs that had the welfare of the city as their basis.

The news items have carried the story of the accomplishments made possible through the careful thought, able planning and hard work of Mr. LaBar. These items, however, have not carried the name of the man who was largely responsible for the achievements recounted. This man who serves Brainerd faithfully does not care to have what he does paraded before the people of this city.

Despite this dislike for publicity, THE DISPATCH is impressed by the service rendered and feels prompted to express appreciation of this service and, in this expression, it is voicing the sentiment of those who know of the tireless and persistent effort of this citizen of Brainerd who serves the city so well.

There was a day when it seemed that the paving program outlined by the city council could not be carried out, and when it looked as though the city must give up hope of paving its main streets Mr. LaBar took up the matter and it was put across. The newspapers have told of the considerable amount that was paid this year by the state of Minnesota to Brainerd to be devoted to educational purposes. This money was refunded very largely because of the indefatigable efforts of this valuable citizen. It is now announced that Brainerd is to receive $10,000 of the gross earnings tax, which will be paid by the state of Minnesota to this city under the provisions of a bill recently passed by the legislature. Brainerd is included with other towns, that receive benefit from this measure, because of the strenuous efforts of a number of Brainerd's citizens who will concede that much of the credit must go to Mr. LaBar.

These are but three of the very many benefits that this citizen has brought to Brainerd, and despite the fact that his interests as president of the First National Bank are numerous, he finds many hours to give to the consideration of Brainerd's problems and to these problems he brings the training and business ability of a man who has made a real success of his own affairs. Mr. LaBar does not jump at conclusions; his training in the banking business has developed a cautious disposition, but the conclusions arrived at are likely to be right in most cases. When a more optimistic citizen presents a proposal, if it is seen to be feasible, this man who moves cautiously is ready to come along and give his practical help to bringing the thing proposed into being. He doesn't start things and drop them; he may hesitate before starting, but what he starts he sees through. Mr. LaBar has served Brainerd well and his services in the future will make for a "bigger and better Brainerd."

COMEDY, COINCIDENCE AND CONVICTION

THREE attitudes are assumed by different types of people as they read of the illness of Howard Carter, co-discoverer with the Earl of Carnarvon of the tomb of Tutankhamen. Materialists and rationalists find in the suggestion, that Mr. Carter's illness is the result of occult powers, cause for amusement. These refuse to concede that any other-worldly powers were at work upon the adventurous Egyptologists. They dismiss as comedy, any talk of spirits visiting, upon those who entered the tomb, a penalty imposed upon desecrators of the tombs of the dead. By these the death of the Earl of Carnarvon, followed closely by the illness of Mr. Carter, is nothing more than a coincidence. Natural causes are responsible for both, in the opinion of these. Some, however, might concede that the ancient Egyptians, by some method known at that time, placed poisonous elements in the vicinity of their dead.

On the other hand there are those who are fully convinced that occult powers have been at work, that spirits guard the bodies of these dead kings, and that these expressed their resentment, when the tomb was disturbed, by smiting those who dared to disturb it.

There are a number of thoughts that suggest themselves to those who attempt to view the whole matter in an impartial manner, reserving their decisions until the evidence is in. Until it is seen that the natives, who took part in the removal of the valuables taken from the tomb, also are smitten, those who wish to be consistent will wonder why the natives are immune from the attacks of the spirits or the poisons. If spirits were at work they could single out their victims, but poisons would not be able to choose who should or should not be smitten. But perhaps the poisons might be of a character to destroy the white man while harmless when in contact with natives.

There is yet one more thought suggested by this coincidence. In the ages of long ago people held kings in awe and offered them a place that is no longer granted. Divine right was accepted and kings were kings by the decree of the gods. Such views are no longer acceptable to modern men, who are not quite sure that spirits would be any more wishful of defending the body of a king, of questionable standards, than they would the body of any man. The better the man the more likely is spirit protection, is the idea of some, who believe that in the world of spirits, a man is measured by character and not by pomp and pride.

But, when the last word has been said on this subject, there will be those who see in the superstitions of the natives a matter for comedy, while others will see in the death of the Earl and the illness of his associate a coincidence, and yet others will be convinced that the tomb is guarded by spirits who have stricken the leaders in the work of excavation.

RURAL TEACHERS IN CONVENTION

Friday and Saturday Devoted to Business of County Rural Teachers Association

MRS. MARY CURO PRESIDED

Friday Afternoon Program, Informal Reception, Saturday Spelling Contest and Election

Friday and Saturday were busy days for the Crow Wing County Rural Teachers Association, in annual session in the city.

The meetings began Friday afternoon, when the teachers gathered in the farmers room at the court house, Mrs. Mary Curo, president of the association presiding.

Miss Loretto C. Newman, executive secretary of the Child Welfare Board, spoke of her work, and its connection with the rural communities, and asked the cooperation of the teachers. Mrs. W. H. Gemmell also talked along this line, explaining how the rural teachers could assist the Child Welfare Board.

Miss Thora Ingebreton, county nurse, told of her experiences in the county and explained her work, especially in examining school children and in holding clinics in the various schools.

Miss Vera Waterman, instructor in the normal training department of the Brainerd high school, thanked the rural teachers for their co-operation in assisting her in her work, students in this department being placed in various schools throughout the county for practical experience in teaching.

Prof. George Glick, of the University Extension bureau, who is conducting weekly classes in public speaking in Brainerd, gave a very interesting talk on the subject, "A pleasing voice". In conclusion, Mr. Glick read several selections to illustrate the points made in his address.

Miss Anne Swenson of the State Department of Education, was introduced, and gave a short talk in explanation of her address to be given in the evening.

The teachers held an informal reception and tea in the county superintendent's office. Mrs. Anna Howell of Jenkins gave several readings during the reception.

The most important session of the convention was held Friday evening in the assembly room at the high school. This program was opened with several selections by the high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Marion Opsahl.

Miss Swenson, gave the address of the evening, her words being directed to both parents and teachers, and plead for a better cooperation and understanding between these two classes. Miss Swenson, as rural school inspector, has had a wide experience in her line, and has gathered a wealth of information from which she drew in her address.

Mrs. Howell closed the program with two musical readings. Representatives of several Brainerd organizations were to have had a place on the program, but were crowded out unavoidably through a lack of time, and will be heard at a later meeting of the association.

The business meeting of the teachers was held Saturday morning, the election of officers for the coming year being the most important work of this session. The following will guide the destinies:

President—Miss Rachel Roderick.

Vice President—Mrs. Essie Goederz.

Secretary-Treas.—Miss Mary Anderson.

The next meeting of the association will be held on Saturday, April 28th at the court house, at which time the teachers will continue their book review study, classes in which have been conducted at regular intervals at the two-day session follows:

A list of the teachers in attendance at the two-day session follows:

Evelyn Thellin, Dist. 47, Brainerd; Irene L. Johnson, Dist. 86, Marquette.

Lily Carlson, Dist. 91, Crosby; Alvira Brassard, Dist. 90, Ironton; Amye Pentin, Dist. 34, Aitkin; Helen H. Cate, Dist. 107, Hubert; Jennie Crimmins, Dist. 55, Pine River.

AT SCOUT CONFERENCE

Harold Andrews Attended University of Iowa Boy Scout Executive Gathering

Harold Andrews has returned from Iowa City where he attended the Boy Scout Executive Conference, given by the University of Iowa.

Fifty-seven scout executives from the Middle West were in attendance at this conference, which lasted ten days. The course covered everything in scout executive work, and was characterized by Mr. Andrews as the most successful ever held.

The faculty was bigger and better than at any similar conference in the past, and was led by Lauren W. Barclay, head of the educational department of the Boy Scouts of America. Other instructors included Sir Frances Gidney, head of the educational department of the English Scouts, who is in the United States on a two year visit to exchange views along this line with American Scout Leaders. Mr. Freeman, regional executive of the Chicago section and John Piper, holding the same office in the Rocky Mountain section, completed the faculty.

All scout executives who attended this conference, left very much enthused over the instruction they had received, and the prospects a most successful year ahead, especially in this section.

Lowell Parent-Teachers

The Lowell Parent-Teachers association will hold their meeting on Monday night. The election of officers and a short musical program will be given.

ROTARY HAS A NOVEL PROGRAM

Puts on a Travesty of the District Convention Held at St. Paul Several Weeks Ago

DR. R. A. BEISE PRESIDED

Telegrams of Greeting Humorous. Delegates Make Speeches on Strange Subjects

The Brainerd Rotary club introduced a very novel program into its Friday noon meeting, in the form of a travesty on the district convention of Rotary clubs held in St. Paul several weeks ago.

Dr. R. A. Beise presided at the mock convention as district governor the various members of the club representing delegates from fictitious clubs in various towns and townships in this locality. Banners displaying the names of these clubs were hung about the room to give the scene a real convention atmosphere.

The convention opened with the usual formality of reading telegrams of greetings from the clubs in this "supposed" district, including one from Laddie Boy, sent from the White House in Washington. These telegrams were all humorous and brought out plenty of laughs.

A. C. Ebert, in imitating Fred Carberry of Milwaukee, who won great fame as song leader at both the national and district conventions of Rotary, lead the singing at the Brainerd "convention," all delegates conceding that Al went his rival one better at every turn.

A large bouquet was presented to the convention from the Kiwanis club of Lenox in imitation of the beautiful bouquet received at the St. Paul conference by the Kiwanians of that city. The Lenox contribution, however, proved to be made up of carrots, onions and other vegetables.

Various "delegates" were called upon for speeches, and weighty subjects and important questions were settled by these speakers. For example, Dr. K. H. Hoorn of the Pequot Rotary club, dwelt at length on the "Toothpick Menace." Rev. E. A. Cooke on "Why Married Men make the Best Husbands," H. F. Michael on "How our Club Stopped its Members from the Celluloid Collar Habit" and John Holvik on "How We Improved the Eyesight of our Older Members, or Removing the Flapper Menace."

Joe Cibazar brought greetings from his club at Pierz, the only difficulty with his speech, as with John Holvik's, was the fact that the delegates had trouble in understanding them. Joe's talk was given mostly in broken Bohemian, and John's contained too much Scandinavian to be intelligible to the majority. However, each flowery orator put plenty of "kick" into his remarks, and received his full quota of applause.

The conference closed with the presentation of a fine silver service to "Governor Beise" as a token of the convention's appreciation of his efforts, the presentation speech being made by Walter F. Wieland. This silver service was mounted on a battered tin tray, and consisted of numerous worn-out articles of tinware.

It was voted to again hold this district conference in Brainerd next year.

FIRST TOURISTS ARRIVE IN CITY; BEAT THE ROBINS

O. D. Edick and family claim the honor of being the first tourists to arrive in this section, being a little in advance of the migratory birds, although several claim to have seen robins yesterday and today.

The Edicks motored from Eldora, Iowa, taking two days for the trip. In the party are Mr. and Mrs. Edick and two children. The roads in general are reported as fair, the most trouble on the whole trip being experienced after the party left Belle Prairie.

Two cars were used, a Ford truck carrying 2500 pounds of supplies and a Nash touring car. The Edicks are bound for Emily where they expect to stay until about July 1st, after which they will leave on a tour of the West.

While in Brainerd they purchased additional supplies, including provisions, clothing and auto tires.

County Agent E. G. Roth motored to Aitkin Friday where he assisted in unloading a car of picric acid, part of which will be used in that locality and the balance in Crow Wing county for land clearing. Mr. Roth experienced some very bad roads on this trip.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Although the basketball season is technically over, the high school gymnasium is the scene of much excitement, when the eighth grades of the town battle for the pennant. To be sure, the technique of the players isn't quite up to that of the high school boys, but they quite make up for it in enthusiasm and a desperate fighting zeal that keeps them "pepped up" and on their toes every second of the game. Large crowds gather to see these championship games and wild cheers resound from the vaulted ceiling.

Manday the score was as follows:

Lincoln 4, Harrison 30.

Washington 20, Lowell 2.

Tuesday:

Lincoln 5, Washington 12.

Lowell 8, Whittier 7.

Wednesday:

Washington 2, Harrison 16.

Lincoln 10, Lowell 1.

The gymnasium will soon be the scene of a dramatic performance, when the staff of the Brainerd High School gives an entertainment for raising money for the publication. The program will be worth while and a large audience is hoped for. Always in the past, there has been a very loyal turnout for anything put on at the high school by the students themselves.

They are working hard to give a good return for money invested. They have chosen two one act comedies in addition to some vaudeville stunts—all humor—laugh provoking farces, including among the cast experienced actors and some that now appear for the first time.

JUVENILE BAND GAINING MEMBERS

To Date 28 Have Joined and More are Giving It Favorable Consideration

HUGO PFLOCK IS DIRECTOR

Orchestration of New Band Cornets, Clarinets, Saxophones, Flutes, Horn, Etc.

Brainerd seems to be assured of a juvenile band, from the hearty response accorded Hugo Pflock, director, who recently launched out on this undertaking.

Twenty-eight boys have already joined this organization, and more are giving the matter favorable consideration. It is hoped that the number will be brought up to the fifty mark at least.

Quite a number wish to wait until autumn before joining the band, and some feel that nothing should be done in the way of forming the organization until the summer is over, but Mr. Pflock thinks that if the boys begin rehearsals at once, the band will be able to play easy concert pieces in the fall. Also, more time can be given to getting acquainted with the instruments during the summer than after school reopens.

Following is a list of the boys who have already joined the band, and the instrument tentatively chosen by each. It will be noticed that a majority of these boys are from the South side of the city, and it is hoped that the young fellows from the other sections of town will become interested, too.

Cornets: Bert Sabin, Dale Saunders, Roy Schwindeman, J. Meyers, E. Anderson, H. Smith. Clarinets: Elmer Peterson, Julius Peterson, Hans Pflock, C. Nicholson, R. Bourquin, G. Molgren, O. Pearson, Harold Dubois, Trombones: B. Mraz, J. Miller, John Dahlstrom, R. Cregger. Saxophones: Earl DeRocher, Leon Larson, E. Schrader. Flutes: Joe Fitzharris, S. Hawkins. Horn: Ole Weston, Baritone: H. Wagner. Bass: Stuart Gile. Drums: L. Bura and Risberg.

Director Pflock expects to call the boys together on next Thursday to talk over their plans, arrange for rehearsals, etc. The time and place of this meeting will be announced later. The parents of the boys are invited to attend at this time.

Rebekahs Meeting

Florence Rebekah lodge, No. 111, will hold its next regular meeting on Monday night, April 16th. There will be initiation. All members are asked to attend.

RURAL TEACHERS IN CONVENTION

Friday and Saturday Devoted to Business of County Rural Teachers Association

MRS. MARY CURO PRESIDED

Friday Afternoon Program, Informal Reception, Saturday Spelling Contest and Election

Friday and Saturday were busy days for the Crow Wing County Rural Teachers Association, in annual session in the city.

The meetings began Friday afternoon, when the teachers gathered in the farmers room at the court house, Mrs. Mary Curo, president of the association presiding.

Miss Loretto C. Newman, executive secretary of the Child Welfare Board, spoke of her work, and its connection with the rural communities, and asked the cooperation of the teachers. Mrs. W. H. Gemmell also talked along this line, explaining how the rural teachers could assist the Child Welfare Board.

Miss Thora Ingebreton, county nurse, told of her experiences in the county and explained her work, especially in examining school children and in holding clinics in the various schools.

Miss Vera Waterman, instructor in the normal training department of the Brainerd high school, thanked the rural teachers for their cooperation in assisting her in her work, students in this department being placed in various schools throughout the county for practical experience in teaching.

Prof. George Glick, of the University Extension bureau, who is conducting weekly classes in public speaking in Brainerd, gave a very interesting talk on the subject, "A pleasing voice". In conclusion, Mr. Glick read several selections to illustrate the points made in his address.

Miss Anne Swenson of the State Department of Education, was introduced, and gave a short talk in explanation of her address to be given in the evening.

The teachers held an informal reception and tea in the county superintendent's office. Mrs. Anna Howell of Jenkins gave several readings during the reception.

The most important session of the convention was held Friday evening in the assembly room at the high school. This program was opened with several selections by the high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Marion Opsahl.

Miss Swenson, gave the address of the evening, her words being directed to both parents and teachers, and plead for a better cooperation and understanding between these two classes. Miss Swenson, as rural school inspector, has had a wide experience in her line, and has gathered a wealth of information from which she drew in her address.

Mrs. Howell closed the program with two musical readings. Representatives of several Brainerd organizations were to have had a place on the program, but were crowded out unavoidably through a lack of time, and will be heard at a later meeting of the association.

The business meeting of the teachers was held Saturday morning, the election of officers for the coming year being the most important work of this session. The following will guide the destinies:

President—Miss Rachel Roderick.

Vice President—Mrs. Essie Goedderz.

Secretary-Treas.—Miss Mary Anderson.

The next meeting of the association will be held on Saturday, April 28th at the court house, at which time the teachers will continue their book review study, classes in which have been conducted at regular at the two-day session follows:

AT SCOUT CONFERENCE

Harold Andrews Attended University of Iowa Boy Scout Executive Gathering

Harold Andrews has returned from Iowa City where he attended the Boy Scout Executive Conference, given by the University of Iowa.

Fifty-seven scout executives from the Middle West were in attendance at this conference, which lasted ten days. The course covered everything in scout executive work, and was characterized by Mr. Andrews as the most successful ever held.

The faculty was bigger and better than at any similar conference in the past, and was lead by Lauren W. Barclay, head of the educational department of the Boy Scouts of America. Other instructors included Sir Frances Gidney, head of the educational department of the English Scouts, who is in the United States on a two year visit to exchange views along this line with American Scout Leaders. Mr. Freeman, regional executive of the Chicago section and John Piper, holding the same office in the Rocky Mountain section, completed the faculty.

All scout executives who attended this conference, left very much enthused over the instruction they had received, and the prospects a most successful year ahead, especially in this section.

Lewell Parent-Teachers

The Lewell Parent-Teachers association will hold their meeting on Monday night. The election of officers and a short musical program will be given.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors and South Long Lake Ladies Aid for the beautiful floral offerings, and those who remembered our daily necessities also to Mrs. Fleener and Mrs. Sorenson for the use of their cars. Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Niles for music rendered in our recent bereavement when our wife and mother passed away.

ROTARY HAS A NOVEL PROGRAM

Puts on a Travesty of the District Convention Held at St. Paul Several Weeks Ago

DR. R. A. BEISE PRESIDED

Telegrams of Greeting Humorous. Delegates Make Speeches on Strange Subjects

The Brainerd Rotary club introduced a very novel program into its Friday noon meeting, in the form of a travesty on the district convention of Rotary clubs held in St. Paul several weeks ago.

Dr. R. A. Beise presided at the mock convention as district governor the various members of the club representing delegates from fictitious clubs in various towns and townships in this locality. Banners displaying the names of these clubs were hung about the room to give the scene a real convention atmosphere.

The convention opened with the usual formality of reading telegrams of greetings from the clubs in this "supposed" district, including one from Laddie Boy, sent from the White House in Washington. These telegrams were all humorous and brought out plenty of laughs.

A. C. Ebert, imitating Fred Carberry of Milwaukee, who won great fame as song leader at both the national and district conventions of Rotary, lead the singing at the Brainerd "convention," all delegates conceding that Al went his rival one better at every turn.

A large bouquet was presented to the convention from the Kiwanis club of Lenox in imitation of the beautiful bouquet received at the St. Paul conference by the Kiwanians of that city. The Lenox contribution, however, proved to be made up of carrots, onions and other vegetables.

Various "delegates" were called upon for speeches, and weighty subjects and important questions were settled by these speakers. For example, Dr. K. H. Hoern of the Pequot Rotary club, dwelt at length on the "Toothpick Menace." Rev. E. A. Cooke on "Why Married Men make the Best Husbands," H. F. Michael on "How our Club Stopped its Members from the Celluloid Collar Habit" and John Holvick on "How We Improved the Eyesight of our Older Members, or Removing the Flapper Menace."

Joe Cibuzar brought greetings from his club at Pierz, the only difficulty with his speech, as with John Holvick's, was the fact that the delegates had trouble in understanding them. Joe's talk was given mostly in broken Bohemian, and John's contained too much Scandinavian to be intelligible to the majority. However, each flowery orator put plenty of "kick" into his remarks, and received his full quota of applause.

The conference closed with the presentation of a fine silver service to "Governor Beise" as a token of the convention's appreciation of his efforts, the presentation speech being made by Walter F. Wieland. This silver service was mounted on a battered tin tray, and consisted of numerous worn-out articles of tinware.

It was voted to again hold this district conference in Brainerd next year.

Baseball Dance Tonight

The Brainerd baseball club of this season will give its dance tonight at Elks hall and have engaged Risberg's six piece orchestra for the occasion. All arrangements have been completed to guarantee a most pleasing dance and a large attendance is expected.

FIRST TOURISTS ARRIVE IN CITY; BEAT THE ROBINS

O. D. Edick and family claim the honor of being the first tourists to arrive in this section, being a little in advance of the migratory birds, although several claim to have seen robins yesterday and today.

The Edicks motored from Eldora, Iowa, taking two days for the trip. In the party are Mr. and Mrs. Edick and two children. The roads in general are reported as fair, the most trouble on the whole trip being experienced after the party left Belle Prairie.

Two cars were used, a Ford truck carrying 2500 pounds of supplies and a Nash touring car. The Edicks are bound for Emily where they expect to stay until about July 1st, after which they will leave on a tour of the West.

While in Brainerd they purchased additional supplies, including provisions, clothing and auto tires.

County Agent E. G. Roth motored to Aitkin Friday where he assisted in unloading a car of picnic acid, part of which will be used in that locality and the balance in Crow Wing county for land clearing. Mr. Roth experienced some very bad roads on this trip.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Although the basketball season is technically over, the high school gymnasium is the scene of much excitement, when the eighth grades of the town battle for the pennant. To be sure, the technique of the players isn't quite up to that of the high school boys, but they quite make up for it in enthusiasm and a desperate fighting zeal that keeps them "pepped up" and on their toes every second of the game. Large crowds gather to see these championship games and wild cheers resound from the vaulted ceiling.

Monday the score was as follows: Lincoln 4, Harrison 20.

Washington 20, Lowell 2.

Tuesday: Lincoln 5, Washington 12.

Lowell 8, Whittier 7.

Wednesday: Washington 2, Harrison 16.

Lincoln 10, Lowell 1.

The gymnasium will soon be the scene of a dramatic performance, when the staff of the Brainerdian gives an entertainment for raising money for the publication. The program will be worth while and a large audience is hoped for. Always in the past, there has been a very loyal turnout for any thing put on at the high school by the students themselves.

They are working hard to give a good return for money invested. They have chosen two one act comedies in addition to some vaudeville stunts—all humor—laugh provoking farces, including among the cast experienced actors and some that now appear for the first time.

JUVENILE BAND GAINING MEMBERS

To Date 28 Have Joined and More are Giving It Favorable Consideration

HUGO PFLOCK IS DIRECTOR

Orchestration of New Band Cornets, Clarinets, Saxophones, Flutes, Horn, Etc.

Brainerd seems to be assured of a juvenile band, from the hearty response accorded Hugo Pflock, director, who recently launched out on this undertaking.

Twenty-eight boys have already joined this organization, and more are giving the matter favorable consideration. It is hoped that the number will be brought up to the fifty mark at least.

Quite a number wish to wait until autumn before joining the band, and some feel that nothing should be done in the way of forming the organization until the summer is over, but Mr. Pflock thinks that if the boys begin rehearsals at once, the band will be able to play easy concert pieces in the fall. Also, more time can be given to getting acquainted with the instruments during the summer than after school reopens.

Following is a list of the boys who have already joined the band, and the instrument tentatively chosen by each. It will be noticed that a majority of these boys are from the South side of the city, and it is hoped that the young fellows from the other sections of town will become interested, too.

Cornets: Bert Sabin, Dale Saunders, Roy Schwindeman, J. Meyers, E. Anderson, H. Smith. Clarinets: Elmer Peterson Julius Peterson, Hans Pflock, C. Nicholson, R. Bourquin, G. Molgren, O. Pearson, Harold Dubois, Trombones: B. Mraz, J. Miller, John Dahlstrom, R. Cregar. Saxophones: Earl DeRocher, Leon Larson, E. Schrader. Flutes: Joe Fitzharris, S. Hawkins. Horn: Ole Weston. Baritone: H. Wagner. Bass: Stuart Gile. Drums: L. Busa and Risberg.

Director Pflock expects to call the boys together on next Thursday to talk over their plans, arrange for rehearsals, etc. The time and place of this meeting will be announced later. The parents of the boys are invited to attend at this time.

Rebekahs Meeting

Florence Rebekah lodge, No. 111, will hold its next regular meeting on Monday night, April 16th. There will be initiation. All members are asked to attend.

SPORTS

LOOK OUT FOR THE WHITE SOX THIS YEAR!

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, April 14.—Kid Gleason's Chicago White Sox roamed all over the American League terrain last year, hitting every place but first and second. The regions that were not explored last year may not only be reached this year, but they may be occupied more or less permanently by the smart ball club that Gleason has built up since the memorable bust-up of 1929.

Since the Braves pulled their 1914 stunt in upsetting all calculations with a spurt starting in July that led them to the National League pennant, the baseball prophets have always been wary of a dark horse.

Granting the possibility of a big surprise that would take the heavy battle for the pennant away from the Yanks and the Tigers, the White Sox and the Philadelphia Athletics look like the club most liable to jump out and take a lousy boot at the well-known dope bucket.

The White Sox look like the better qualified of those two dark horses to deliver a surprise.

With Kid Gleason on the bench, Ray Schalk behind the bat, Eddie Collins on second, Red Faber in the box and Harry Hooper in the outfield, the White Sox have an array of brains that cannot be surpassed by any team in the major leagues. There are more than enough wise heads on the field to balance the young material that the club has been so successful in gathering up from the minors.

The mental department of the club has also been augmented with the signing of Ed Walsh as coach of the pitchers. With the shrewd Gleason and Walsh in charge of the promising young pitchers, most anything can be expected during the coming pennant chase.

Last year the White Sox did nothing more serious in the pennant race than an occasional threat, but this year they have prospects not only for making that threat more consistent but of making it permanent.

When John McGraw says he would pay $100,000 right now for Willie Kamm, the young third baseman for whom Comiskey put out that pile to the San Francisco club, the investment of the Sox owners must have been well advised. Upon the husky shoulder of that young star rests most of the chances that the team may have for a one-two-three finish in the pennant race. If he delivers according to expectations, Gleason will have found a solution for the third base problem that has been bothering him since Buck Weaver had the door opened for him out of baseball. But if he falls down, the club will not be much weaker than it was last year.

With Sheeley, Collins, Johnson and Kamm working the infield combination, and with Hooper, Falk and Mostil taking care of the outfield, the Sox have as much as could be desired in the way of offensive and defensive strength. The New York Giants may have more power and balance than Gleason's lineup, but no team in the American League has much on it.

regard, jumps to the attack and his father, happy in the belief that his son has no yellow streak, welcomes the assault. The emotion brings on a heart attack and the father tells the story of his wife and "Boy's" mother, who had deserted them both for another man.

"Boy" grants his father's dying request and swears before he marries to avenge his mother who has been cruelly wronged by the other man.

And this vow takes the now thoroughly changed "Boy" to Glasgow, where he finds his forlorn little mother, then back to son, where a terrific denouement is staged. Of course, the story ends happily and of course the plans for the little wedding which was so cruelly interrupted are carried out. But, of course, not in the usual way.

Barthelmess is splendidly supported by Dorothy Gish, who makes a bewitching Minnie.

MINNESOTA TOWNS MAY FORM BASEBALL LEAGUE

International Falls, April 14.—A baseball league composed of the towns of International Falls, Warroad, Williams, Baudette, Rainy River, Eno and Fort Frances is suggested in a letter sent to fans in the towns named by H. A. Dybvig, of Baudette. Mr. Dybvig asserts there is no doubt that if such a league were formed a good schedule could easily be worked out and as the towns are within a reasonable distance of each other the fans think the plan is feasible.

200 ST. CLOUD BOYS JOIN JUVENILE BAND

St. Cloud, April 14.—Two hundred St. Cloud boys between the ages of 10 and 15 signed up to play in a juvenile band to be led by C. Oliver Riggs, formerly of the famous Bemidji Boys band and now of St. Cloud, at a meeting called by Mr. Riggs to present the proposition. The boys are given free instruction.

New York, April 14.—Fred Fulton and his manager, Jimmy Johnston, have issued a formal challenge to both Jess Willard and Floyd Johnson, who are to oppose each other in the main bout of the show at the Yankee stadium on May 12.

The ire of the tall plasterer and his diminutive manager, aroused by the efforts to prevent the Fulton-Johnson match in Jersey City next Monday night, prompted the pair to make an offer that sounds promising.

"This show is for charity, isn't it?" queried Johnston. "Well we are full of charity too. Freddie will fight both Johnson and Willard and we don't

The Big Super-Special Showing at the Lyceum Sunday and Monday

SCENE FROM "THE NINETY AND NINE"

The big thrill scene in the David Smith production, "The Ninety and Nine," shows the hero, played by Warner Baxter, driving a locomotive through miles of burning forest, over burning bridges and past falling trees to carry a relief train to a doomed town. It is one of the most realistic scenes of its kind ever transferred to celluloid.

LOOK OUT FOR THE WHITE SOX THIS YEAR!

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, April 14.—Kid Gleason's Chicago White Sox roamed all over the American League terrain last year, hitting every place but first and second. The regions that were not explored last year may not only be reached this year, but they may be occupied more or less permanently by the smart ball club that Gleason has built up since the memorable bust-up of 1920.

Since the Braves pulled their 1914 stunt in upsetting all calculations with a spurt starting in July that led them to the National League pennant, the baseball prophets have always been wary of a dark horse.

Granting the possibility of a big surprise that would take the heavy battle for the pennant away from the Yanks and the Tigers, the White Sox and the Philadelphia Athletics look like the club most liable to jump out and take a lusty boot at the well-known dope bucket.

The White Sox look like the better qualified of those two dark horses to deliver a surprise.

With Kid Gleason on the bench, Ray Schalk behind the bat, Eddie Collins on second, Red Faber in the box and Harry Hooper in the outfield, the White Sox have an array of brains that cannot be surpassed by any team in the major leagues. There are more than enough wise heads on the field to balance the young material that the club has been so successful in gathering up from the minors.

The mental department of the club has also been augmented with the signing of Ed Walsh as coach of the pitchers. With the shrewd Gleason and Walsh in charge of the promising young pitchers, most anything can be expected during the coming pennant chase.

Last year the White Sox did nothing more serious in the pennant race than an occasional threat, but this year they have prospects not only for making that threat more consistent but of making it permanent.

When John McGraw says he would pay $100,000 right now for Willie Kamm, the young third baseman for whom Comiskey put out that pile to the San Francisco club, the investment of the Sox owners must have been well advised. Upon the husky shoulder of that young star rests most of the chances that the team may have for a one-two-three finish in the pennant race. If he delivers according to expectations, Gleason will have found a solution for the third base problem that has been bothering him since Buck Weaver had the door opened for him out of baseball. But if he falls down, the club will not be much weaker than it was last year.

With Sheeley, Collins, Johnson and Kamm working the infield combination, and with Hooper, Falk and Mostil taking care of the outfield, the Sox have as much as could be desired in the way of offensive and defensive strength. The New York Giants may have more power and balance than Gleason's lineup, but no team in the American League has much on it.

regard, jumps to the attack and his father, happy in the belief that his son has no yellow streak, welcomes the assault. The emotion brings on a heart attack and the father tells the story of his wife and "Boy's" mother, who had deserted them both for another man.

"Boy" grants his father's dying request and swears before he marries to avenge his mother who has been cruelly wronged by the other man.

And this vow takes the now thoroughly changed "Boy" to Glasgow, where he finds his forlorn little mother, then back to sea, where a terrific denouement is staged. Of course, the story ends happily and of course the plans for the little wedding which was so cruelly interrupted are carried out. But, of course, not in the usual way.

Barthelmess is splendidly supported by Dorothy Gish, who makes a bewitching Minnie.

MINNESOTA TOWNS MAY FORM BASEBALL LEAGUE

International Falls, April 14.—A baseball league composed of the towns of International Falls, Warroad, Williams, Baudette, Rainy River, Emo and Fort Frances is suggested in a letter sent to fans in the towns named by H. A. Dybvig, of Baudette. Mr. Dybvig asserts there is no doubt that if such a league were formed a good schedule could easily be worked out and as the towns are within a reasonable distance of each other the fans think the plan is feasible.

200 ST. CLOUD BOYS JOIN JUVENILE BAND

St. Cloud, April 14.—Two hundred St. Cloud boys between the ages of 10 and 15 signed up to play in a juvenile band to be led by C. Oliver Riggs, formerly of the famous Bemidji Boys band and now of St. Cloud, at a meeting called by Mr. Riggs to present the proposition. The boys are given free instruction.

LANKY PLASTERER ISSUES FORMAL CHALLENGE TO WILLARD AND JOHNSON

New York, April 14.—Fred Fulton and his manager, Jimmy Johnston, have issued a formal challenge to both Jess Willard and Floyd Johnson, who are to oppose each other in the main bout of the show at the Yankee stadium on May 12.

The ire of the tall plasterer and his diminutive manager, aroused by the efforts to prevent the Fulton-Johnson match in Jersey City next Monday night, prompted the pair to make an offer that sounds promising.

"This show is for charity, isn't it?" queried Johnston. "Well we are full of charity too. Freddie will fight both Johnson and Willard and we don't
